SB, 265 RX, Winter cover, 2003-01

A special cylinder cover is now available for winter use. The cover has a seal that rests on the air filter, and additional holes in the insulation wall so that hot air from the cylinder can warm the carburettor. The cover is blue in colour. It is fitted in the same way as the standard cover. Must not be used when the temperature exceeds +10°. When removing the air filter, the screws for the winter cover should be unscrewed a few turns because the seal on the cover presses against the air filter.
